Finding Articles about DRGs and MS-DRGs in the Library

From the Library home page go to the Healthcare subject page:

You’ll get a search box as well as a list of databases. Any of them will work; you’ll have to try a few to see which ones you like. I searched the Health Source Consumer Edition, but any will work:
You just put in your search terms, and take a look at the results (remember, you can use any of the databases listed, or you can use the main search box, it’s a matter of personal preference. Try a few to see what you like – it’ll help you in the future too).
You can also try searching the terms DRG and MS-DRG one at a time to see articles about one or the other.
